SCIENCE FICTION ADVENTURE

brief outline of plot (Information in brackets NOT FOR PUBLICATION)

NB This is a synopsis for parts 1 and 2

The Doctor and Peri arrive on Necros to pay their final condolences to professor Arthur Stengos, an old friend of the Doctor.

Now the planet Necros has two industries one is Tranquil Repose, a massive repository, where the cryogenically preserved remains of the dead from many galaxies are stored awaiting a cure for the disease that killed them; and two factories concerned with the production of cheap, synthetic protein.

Unknown to the Doctor, Davros has taken over Tranquil Repose and is using it as a cover to produce yet more Daleks.

(Although unable to prevent Davros, Jobel, Takis, Lilt and D.J., attendants at the repository, are unhappy with what is going on and would like to see the back of him.

Davros is only too aware of this, but as his work is almost complete, is prepared to put up with their rebellious mutterings.

Forever on the look-out for new material to turn into a Dalek, Davros recruits Tasambeker, a passionate, but ignored admirer of Jobel. Although interested in Davros' proposition she is not happy that the recruitment be sealed in blood - Jobel's blood!

Meanwhile, Kara, who runs the protein production factories, and her secretary, Vogel, have decided to kill Davros - he is taking what Kara considers her profits for his development work on the Daleks - and have employed Orcini and Bostock for that purpose.

Just as the Doctor learns that all is not well at Tranquil Repose, he is captured and imprisoned with Natasha and Grigory, who have discovered that the dead - known as "Resting ones" - have been removed from their cells.)

OTHER POINTS (e.g. names of leading artists if known)

The return of Davros and the Daleks. The Daleks 14th appearance. Guest stars Ellenor Brón as Kara, Alexei Sayle as DJ, William Gaunt as Orcini and Clive Swift as Jobel.

On meeting Davros, the Doctor finds out why: to finance his Dalek project, he has turned most of the bodies into protein and is selling it to the galaxy through Kara's factories.

Although Orcini is captured, he is, ultimately, able to destroy the newly created Daleks, who are still stored waiting to be activated. Davros is taken back to Skaro, the Dalek's planet, to stand trial for his crimes against his own creation, this having been engineered by Takis and Lilt.

With Tranquil Repose destroyed and Kara dead, the Doctor realises that the planet relying on the supplies of protein from Kara's factories, will suffer badly now that their source has been cut off.

Along the way, the Doctor has noticed a soya bean-type plant and suggests that the survivors continue to supply protein from a more agreeable source.

The Doctor and Peri decide to stay and help for a while.)
